"I'VE BEEN COUED"

Taught by Auto Suggestion Of Improved Condition

BY MILTON BRONNER
(Lima News Correspondent)

NANCY, France, (Special)—I've been Coued!

Which rendered into every day English means that, supposedly being ill with a nervous breakdown, I have come to the famous auto-suggestion clinics held by Monsieur Emile Coue and have been taught that—Every day, in every way, I am getting better and better!

Monsieur Coue presently will be holding clinics in the United States, so I became a patient at his clinic in Nancy in order that I could give fellow-Americans back home an intimate introduction to his methods. Clinics always suggest hospitals.

You tell a friend in Paris you are running over to Nancy to put yourself in the hands of Monsieur Coue, and unless he has been Coued himself, he at once pictures you being questioned and examined, tucked in bed with a uniformed nurse telling you three times a day what the doctor says you must take and must forego. And finally, there is, of course, the question of the fee for the doctor and the charges for the hospital.

That is what makes it so nice about being Coued. There is no fee. There is no hard and fast regimen. There are not even fussy preliminaries. COUE LIKES INFORMALITY.

Take my own case. I simply "barged in" on Monsieur Coue. Most people do. He is used to it. He likes it. He encourages it.

I took a taxi at the railway station and told the chauffeur to drive me to Monsieur Coue, 156 Rue Jeanne d'Arc.

The driver knew the place well. He is always taking Americans and Britons there.

Arrived at Monsieur Coue's residence, a simple two-story cement-faced building, I simply followed the visitors ahead of me. There were, perhaps, 40 or 50 of us in all when Coue came in. We sat around in chairs in his office and in the front parlor across the hall.

The only bit of formality I observed was that we all rose, as a token of respect and greeting to the little man.

HOW COUE LOOKS
Coue himself is a bit over 60, with fresh pink complexion and gray hair, mustache and beard. His dark eyes twinkle with good humor, with tolerance, with comprehension, and with physical mental and moral well being.

Years ago he was a pharmacist. Then he evolved his theories of how to help us heal ourselves of many ills. He retired from his pharmacy and has been freely spending himself on the new work ever since.

Here in Nancy—except when traveling—on Mondays and Fridays he has open hours for all comers, natives and foreigners.

On these days he has two clinics in the morning and two in the afternoon. So that for six solid hours he is on his feet, talking, demonstrating, inculcating his principles, and preaching a doctrine of hope. THERE IS NO FORMALITY.

There is in his clinics neither the formality of a new religion, nor of the old practice of medicine. The little stockily built man, dressed in his simple dark gray suit and black tie, walks in, nods brightly to all about him and then tells comfortably up against the wall door.

New Troops On Kidnappers' Trail

PATRONS MAY BUY TROLLEY LINE

Seen as Solution of Difficulties of Rail System.

PARLEY IS SET FOR JAN. 15

Judge Killitts Offers Plan in Aid of Defiance Line.

Solution of the financial difficulties that have beset the Defiance division of the Indiana, Columbus & Eastern traction company is incorporated in the suggestion made by Federal Judge John M. Killitts that patrons and shippers purchase the line.

Judge Killitts in a letter to Martin & Curry, traction attorneys, Springfield, suggests a conference on January 15 in the matter.

His letter says in part: "I feel very strongly the propriety of handling the receivership as far as fairly proper in such a way as to afford an opportunity for the people now served by the road to acquire it."

URGED BY KILLITTS
"If its value to the bondholders is only what it would be worth scrapped, I see no good reason why we cannot soon arrive at a figure on that basis, and let the local interests take it over."

"I think we could go farther and demand, if they purchase it, a sum equal to the scrap value plus the burden upon the receivership of continuing operation until local interests can make arrangements to acquire it."

"It seems to be the duty of the court to save the road, if possible, especially if that can be done without thrusting any burdens upon the receivership, and I am minded to work for that end."

R. R. Trubey, representing interests fighting for continued operation of the Defiance line, declared Wednesday he does not know what can be done in the matter, but is willing to confer with the traction officials and bondholders on the date suggested.

$425,000 FOR NEW LIMA POSTOFFICE

Mellon and Work Make Recommendation To Congress

Appropriation of $425,000 was recommended to congress Wednesday by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and Postmaster General Work for a postoffice building in Lima, according to reports from Washington.

Postoffice and appropriations for other Ohio cities recommended are: Akron, $772,000; Canton, $600,000; Springfield, $500,000.

Need of larger federal buildings in 140 cities, costing upwards of $40,000,000, was reported by the department heads.

The report pointed out that rent now paid to house government activities was more than $20,000,000 a year. The recommendation was made that a program covering a period of years be mapped out, to be provided first in places of the greatest congestion and where the government is paying large rentals.

OHIO BANS FATTY

Arbuckle Films Will Not Be Permitted in State

COLUMBUS, (Associated Press)—Ohio motion picture theatres will not be permitted to exhibit new Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle films, Vernon H. Riegel, state director of education and head of the state film censorship department, announced here today.

Ex-Army Chief Is Seeking Job

SEATTLE, Wash.—(Associated Press)—General Alexander Ivanoff, who in 1917, commanded the armies of the czar in Russia on the eve of the revolution, was here today as a steamer passenger on the Iva Maru. He announced by the aid of an English-Russian dictionary, his intention of staying in Seattle, learning English and doing something to make a living.

General Ivanoff, apparently of middle age, declared that altho he had little money, he was not discouraged.

After the fall of the imperial Russian government, General Ivanoff became a fugitive, finally reaching Harbin, whence he made his way to Japan, where he boarded the Iva Maru.

General Ivanoff was dressed in a rough blue sweater, an unimpressive suit of clothes and a pair of American army shoes.

LICENSE MEASURE IS CONSIDERED

Commission to Pattern Law After Plan in Other Cities

AFFECT REVOLVER SALES

City Fears Protest in Resurfacing Assessment

Lima will have a license ordinance similar to that seen in many other Ohio cities, commissioners decided at the regular meeting of the city commission Tuesday night.

Following the reading of a communication from C. A. Bingham, city manager, pointing out that the sale of revolvers would be regulated by a license ordinance, it was decided to take up such regulatory measure in the near future.

At first it was thought it might be best to hold a special meeting between now and the next regular meeting but after discussion it was decided to consider the provision of the measure in closed session prior to a regular meeting.

Commissioners have been sounding out public opinion, it is said, and now believe they can frame an ordinance which will be subjected to very little criticism. An ordinance previously proposed met with so much opposition that it was decided not to pass it.

ASSESSMENTS DELAYED
Assessing of the cost of the S. Main street resurfacing against the property owners was delayed by the commission until a later date. The job has not proven very satisfactory and commissioners feel that assessing the cost at the present time might stir up a storm of protest.

Additional treatment may be given the street in an attempt to place it in a satisfactory condition before the assessments are made, it was reported to the commission by Bingham.

If this is done it is believed the property owners will be willing to pay their share of the cost.

Approval of the 1923 budget ordinance was given by the commission after a few minor changes had been made. It was decided to discontinue the public clinic and to increase the contingent fund by $1,320.

Total expenditures of $231,039 are planned by the city for the operation of the various general departments and is $60,537 lower than the combined budgets for 1922. To meet the payment of $231,039 the city will receive $115,000 from taxes, $22,000 from automobile license fees and $91,039 from receipts. It is estimated if the city is to break even a high license ordinance will be necessary, commissioners point out.

RUSHED TO AID IN LOUISIANA CASE

Special Train Load of Soldiers Arrives at Bastrop.

HUNT FOR LATEST VICTIM

Hearing in Masked Band Probe to Begin Friday.

BASTROP, La.—(Associated Press)—The movement of additional state troops to Bastrop to join the four companies already stationed here and at Mer Rouge, efforts to locate Harold Teegerstrom, carbon plant time keeper, whose mysterious disappearance has furnished a new sensation in the investigation by federal and state agents into masked band operations and the preparations for the starting Friday of an open hearing by the state attorney general made up today's surface developments in Morehouse parish.

A cavalry detachment of 40 men with full horse equipment, of the Louisiana national guard, arrived here early today aboard a special train from Jennings. Military officials declared they knew no reason for sending the additional troops.

One suggestion, however, was that the cavalry might be used to aid civil authorities in making predicted arrests.

SEARCHING FOR CLUE
The whereabouts of Teegerstrom still was said to be unknown to the corps of investigators who have been searching for a clue to his movements after he is alleged to have been kidnapped last Friday night.

Clarence V. Fiedler, brother of the missing boy, said at Monroe, that Harold had escaped from his captors and was hiding. He believed the young man had left Louisiana but could not substantiate a report that he had returned to his old home in Erie, Pa.

No new warrants have been issued. Department of justice agents were non-committal as to the probability of more arrests in advance of the hearing.

On the whole developments largely are awaiting the arrival of Attorney General Cocco and his assistants who will conduct the open hearing. Mr. Cocco is expected to arrive from New Orleans today or tonight.

REQUISITION REFUSED
BALTIMORE.—(Associated Press)—The next move in the return to Louisiana of Dr. B. M. McKoin, arrested here a week ago on the charge of murder, following the discovery of the bodies of Thomas Richards and Walt Daniels in Lake La Foudre, near Mer Rouge, is expected from Governor John M. Parker.

Governor Ritchie of this state telegraphed the Louisiana executive, that he refused to recognize the requisition for Dr. McKoin. He said, however, he would hold the physician "for a reasonable time in order to give the Louisiana authorities the opportunity to submit competent affidavits."

Attorney Robert R. Carman, counsel for the accused, advised Governor Ritchie that Dr. McKoin was ready to go back to Louisiana voluntarily "for a reasonable time in order to give the Louisiana authorities the opportunity to submit competent affidavits."

Dr. McKoin stated thru his counsel that he is ready to leave for Louisiana today if it can be arranged.

TRIAL SEPARATION FOR PEGGY

WOMAN THROWS SELF UNDER TRAIN WHEELS

ALLIANCE, Ohio.—Grief-crazed, Mrs. Katherine Duzek, 34, threw herself under the wheels of a fast train last night and met instant death. Her body was cut in two when picked up by the train crew. The fireman in the cab saw her leap across the rail nearest him within a few hundred yards of her home where her three children waited for her to return.

TELEGRAPHERS TO FIGHT FOR FREY

Will Ask Reinstatement of Man Held For Manslaughter

KENTON.—(Special)—The Telegraphers' union Wednesday announced its intention of aiding in the defense of B. J. Frey, of Middletown, operator and gate tender for the Pennsylvania Railroad, who is facing a manslaughter charge before the Harding grand jury here in connection with the deaths of three school children in the crossing crash at Ada, December 21.

The grievance committee of the union will also ask the railroad company to re-instate Frey, who was suspended the day following the crash. It is said. Evidence at the coroner's inquest indicated that Frey had too many duties to perform to make the crossing safe for the public, according to Coroner Hall, who found that Frey failed to lower the gates in time to keep the buggy carrying the three children off the tracks before the train thundered past.

SUICIDE IS FOILED

Akron Woman Jumps in Lake, Rescued By Negro.

AKRON.—(Associated Press)—Roy Burton, negro, today saved Mrs. George Burick, 21, from drowning in Summit lake after she had leaped from a dock following a quarrel with her husband.

Burton, employed on a construction job nearby, saw the woman jump into the water. He dove in after her and succeeded in getting her to shore.

PURSUED BY JINN
GREENVILLE.—Russell Townsend, farmer residing near here, in Darke co., was arrested recently on a charge of making illicit liquor. Two days later his barn was burned when he fell from a ladder while carrying a lighted lantern. Hay was fired. Townsend was so seriously injured that he is still confined to his bed, it is stated.

MINERS, BOSSES WARNED BY U. S.

Wage Agreement at Chicago Meeting Today Urged.

CHICAGO.—(Associated Press)—Soft coal operators and miners of the United States gathered here today for the opening of their third meeting to agree upon a basis for negotiating new agreements covering wages and working conditions before the prevailing ones expire March 31. Two previous attempts to agree have failed.

Union leaders and coal operators in a telegram from John Hays Hammond, chairman of President Harding's fact finding commission for the coal industry, were warned last night that "your agreement will spare the commission the necessity of fixing the blame for failure to adjust your differences."

Just how much this would affect the situation was not known. Phil H. Penna of Terre Haute, Ind., one of the leading operators, has predicted that no agreement would result from this meeting. He said Indiana operators and miners had failed to agree on a plan of negotiation and ventured the opinion that the same condition would be reported by miners and operators of other states.

The meeting opening today not only faced the problem of agreeing on a wage negotiating basis, but the question of fixing the time limit of the contracts and settlement of the wage scale and arbitration issues.

The miners, thru John L. Lewis, their president, have announced arbitration and reduction of wages as two compromises they would not consider.

MERGER RUMORS DENIED BY LOCOMOTIVE HEADS

Rumors of a proposed merger between the Lima Locomotive company and the Baldwin Locomotive company were emphatically denied by officials of the local company Wednesday afternoon.

The rumor, which became current in all parts of the country following the rapid rise in Lima Locomotive stock Wednesday morning, originated in New York, it is said. Officials at the plant stated, however, that the building program is nearing completion and that increased production, which in scheduled to start in January, has caused the stock to soar.

Orders on the company books are sufficient to keep the enlarged plant running at full capacity for several months and this, together with the fact that increased production means more earnings, caused the increase on the stock market.

Kills Increased Civil, Mexican

for CALLED LOOSE

Would Cost $108,000, annually, President Sa

WASHINGTON.—(Associated Press)—The Burrum bill provides for an increase in the pensions Civil and Mexican war veterans vetoed today by President Harding.

In his veto message the president declared the increase in government expenditures involved would amount to "heedlessness" and objected also to the bill's "loose provision for pensioning widows."

In a brief message returned to the senate, where the bill originated the president said:

"I am returning herewith senate bill 3278, an act granting pensions to certain soldiers, sailors and marines of the Civil war, etc., without my approval."

WITHOUT JUSTIFICATION
"If the act were limited to its provisions in behalf of the surviving participants in the Mexican and Civil wars and widows of the war of 1812, it would still be without ample justification. The commissioner of pensions estimated its additional cost to the treasury to be about $108,000 annually and I venture the prediction that, with such a precedent established the ultimate pension outlay in the half century before us will exceed fifty billions of dollars. The act makes no pretense of new considerations for the needy or dependent, nor new generosity for the veterans wards of the nation; it is an outright bestowal upon the government's pension rolls, with a heedlessness for the government's financial problems which is a discouragement to every effort to reduce expenditures and thereby relieve the federal burdens of taxation."

LOOSE PROVISIONS
"The more particular objection to this act, however, lies in its loose provisions for pensioning widows. The existing law makes the widow of a Civil war veteran eligible to a pension if she married him prior to June 27, 1905. In other words, marriage within 40 years of the end of the Civil war gives a veteran's widow a good title to a pension. The act returns that herewith extends the marriage period specifically to June 27, 1915 and provides that after that date any marriage or cohabitation for two years prior to a veteran's death shall make the widow the beneficiary of a pension at $50 per month for the remainder of her life."

"In view of the fact that this same bill makes provision for pensions for widows of the veterans of the war of 1812, the possible burden of this sweeping provision seems worthy of serious consideration. Frankly, I do not recognize any public obligation to pension women who now, nearly sixty years after the Civil war, become wives of veterans of that war."

"The government has so many demands upon its generosity of treatment to the veterans of the war of 1812, that congress will find it necessary to consider all phases of our obligations when making provisions for any one group."

"The compensation paid to the widows of world war veterans, those who shared the shock and sorrows of the conflict, amounts to $24 per month. It would be indefensible to insist on the limitation upon actual war widows, if we are to pay $60 per year to widows who marry veterans sixty years after the Civil war."

DRY ACT IS HIT BY GOV. SMITH

Urges Immediate Action to Permit Beer and Wine.

ALBANY, N. Y.—(Associated Press)—In a personally delivered message today Governor Alfred E. Smith recommended passage of resolutions urging that the legislative machinery at Washington be set in immediate motion to bring about a constitutional amendment permitting light wines and beer.

The legislature, the governor said, had ratified the eighteenth amendment in 1919, by a narrow margin after refusing a proposal by him to submit the question to the people in a referendum. He then recalled the 275 per cent beer bill, passed by substantial majority in the legislature in 1920, and subsequently rendered inoperative by a supreme court decision and declared that "if democratic government means what we all say it means, surely the history of our own state does not indicate that a majority of the people are in sympathy with the existing Volstead act. If the people are to get relief from this situation, they must look to the national congress."

BOARD TO MEET

CLEVELAND.—The Ohio industrial commission will hold a meeting Monday to consider suggestions for changes in the workmen's compensation law and in its administration.

MARYLAND PROUD OF WET RECORD

Dampest Spot in America Opposes Volstead Law

NO ENFORCEMENT IN STATE

Crime Increases in Baltimore, Records Show

BY LOUIS F. KEEBLE
BALTIMORE (Special)

Maryland, wettest state in the Union and proud of it, begins the new year determined to fight any effort to force the Volstead law down its throat.

Governor Albert C. Ritchie, who kicked over the traces at President Harding's recent conference on prohibition enforcement and told the country how little he thought of the Volstead law, believes that legislation to enforce the law is a waste of time and cannot be enforced.

Can it be enforced in Maryland? Not likely, with the people feeling the way they do.

PERSONAL INVESTIGATION

Your correspondent took a walk thru downtown Baltimore. He has been in this city two months. He visited four saloons and three restaurants, and found it is not necessary to be "known." In all of them liquor was being sold as openly as in 1914. The same pilgrimage could be continued successfully day after day without visiting the same place twice.

Beer, 4 per cent, creamy beer with a collar and a kick—is on draught and on sale at all corners at 20 cents a large glass.

Whisky, too, is sold over the bar. Many places dispense good whisky—the Maryland rye for which this distilling state once was famous—in highballs or by the pony glass for 20 cents.

Whisky is sold over the bar in half-pint flasks. Beer can be ordered from the corner saloon by the case and will be delivered.

BOOTLEGGER'S STOCK

Bootleggers? The correspondent found one without difficulty in a pool room near the city hall. He said he could supply any grade of whisky from pure bonded whisky at $10 a quart to "green whisky" at $2.50.

Purchase of a bottle disclosed it to be raw alcohol, rye extract, caramel coloring, glycerin and odds and ends.

Attempts at enforcement are practically futile. Maryland has no state enforcement law as provided in the Volstead law. Police do not make liquor raids.

Under a ruling of the state attorney general, the only part police can take in a raid to protect raiding federal agents when their lives are in danger. The ruling also bars constables, magistrates and other state and county officials from enforcement activities.

ANOTHER DRY HANDICAP

Another difficulty hampering dry agents is the ruling of the United States commissioner for this district that raids, even on trucks on highways, are not legal unless made under a search warrant.

Liquor seized without a warrant is returned to the owner. The commissioner will not issue a warrant without actual proof, that the place to be raided has liquor contrary to law. An agent's sworn statement that he drank liquor there is not enough. He must show the liquor.

The federal dry force here trying to stem the flood consists of eight men, aided by a flying squad of six sent periodically from Washington.

Public demonstrations, sometimes reaching riot proportions, often mark raids. Agents have been robbed a dozen times.

Crime has increased. Police figures for 1922, now being compiled, show approximately 60,000 arrests. With the exception of 1918 this is the highest in Baltimore's history. Totals for preceding years are: 1921, 54,602; 1920, 41,988; 1919, 50,027.

Figures just compiled by the Prudential Insurance Company on 23 American cities show murder is increasing in Baltimore faster than any city. The yearly rate is 11.2 per 100,000 of population.

The state's sentiment is best expressed in the attitude of the Maryland Society Opposed to the Prohibition Amendment. The members took the stand that Governor Ritchie's anti-Volstead statement following the president's conference was too mild.

NATIVE OF ROUMANIA IS VICTIM OF DEATH HERE

Thoma Pasara, 32, a native of Roumania, died at St. Rita's hospital at 5:30 a. m. Wednesday, from pneumonia, after an illness of four days.

GOBS OF GLOOM ARE RELEASED

Great gobs of gloom were manifested in the weather report for this day, released from the habitat of the guy who poses as the temperature know-it-all over in Columbus. Cloudy and colder tonight. Thursday unsettled. Colder in extreme east portion.

That ought to hold one's enthusiasm in leash for awhile at least. Until the forecaster revamps his mood, the situation is expected to be rocking with gloom for those who don't like cloudy conditions now.

Ed didn't expect sunshine today. Therefore, when Old Sol remained out of sight, Ted also kept him out of mind. Another way of visualizing the situation is that when expected things occur, there is no disappointment, on that score at least.

However, that doesn't contribute to optimism. Clouds never were able to vie with sunshine as a joy producer, save in midsummer when rain is wanted to break a drought which threatens the well-being of crops.

But this isn't midsummer and there are no crops in danger.

ELECTION CERTIFICATES ISSUED COMMISSIONERS

COLUMBUS — Certificates of election were being mailed from the secretary of state's office here today to more than fifty county commissioners in the state following the issuance yesterday in the state supreme court of a mandamus ordering Secretary of State Smith to declare them elected.

The mandamus was issued in a case brought by Herman W. Eay, commissioner-elect in Greene county, when his commission was denied him on grounds that the law passed by the legislature in 1920 changing the terms of the commissioners was unconstitutional. The division vacated an injunction issued in Franklin county preventing Secretary Smith from issuing a certificate to a commissioner in this county, and which he had taken as grounds for refusing to declare any of the new commissioners elected.

Judge Florence Allen, of Cleveland, participated in the case.

GIRL CONFESSES ROBBERIES

"Honey," Captured in Chicago, Tells Story of Holdups.

LEADER OF BANDIT GANG

Minister's Son is Implicated by the Prisoner.

(BY CHARLES R. LYNCH)
CHICAGO — (United Press)

"Call me Honey—that's what the boys named me," said pretty Elizabeth Sullivan, as she sat on the edge of her cot in the county jail and told how a bandit queen should direct a robber gang.

"Honey" had been awakened from a sound sleep, her first night in jail, for the interview.

"First of all, the men got to have the guts," she said in a quiet voice, as she smoothed out the wrinkles in her kimono.

"If they haven't got it, the leader must put it there."

"One night Tommy Guest got cold feet as we were going to pull a job. I stuck my gun in his ear and told him I would blow his brains out if he quit. He didn't."

"Honey" said that at the start she stayed at home while the men went out for the stick-ups.

SWAG TAKEN FROM CAR

"They didn't know how to do the work, tho, so I would go out and sit in the automobile and tell them how," she said.

Asked what she did with the loot from nearly 75 robberies and holdups in which police declared the girl's gang was implicated, she declared:

"That's the hell of it. They took most of the swag."

"I was careful and they would never have caught me if a bunch of those damn police hadn't overhears me telling how I pulled a job."

The girl confessed numerous robberies, including grocery stores, theaters and homes. The latter were inside jobs, where she posed as a maid.

Included among the men named by "Honey" as a member of her gang was a young minister's son, two other members of the gang were taken into custody and Elizabeth full of life and vitality, had the attributes of a natural leader.

"Hell, I ain't tired," she said, as the interview ended late in the night. "My Gawd, I would have to be really old before I got tired."

RECORDER OFFICE BUSINESS GAINS

Deeds and Realty Mortgage Total 5,633 for Year.

That new life has been injected into the Allen-av. recorder's office in the six months period ending December 31, is shown in a comparison of the reports of Guy Custer, county recorder for the fiscal and calendar years of 1922.

Deeds and real estate mortgages filed from January 1 to January 1, total 5,633. The total for the fiscal year from June 30, 1921 to June 30, 1922, is 4,715.

The difference shows marked activity in the buying and selling of real estate since July 1. The two reports overlap, but the sudden jump taken is obvious.

Chattel mortgages filed in Custer's office in 1922, total 7,905. More than $2,000,000 worth of property was transferred by deeds in the fiscal year of 1921-22, involving many thousands acres of land. Mortgages worth $4,332,095 were recorded on 23,000 acres of land in the county. Cancellations of 1,432 parcels of land amounted to $3,124,278.13. Leases of 161 parcels of land involved the transfer of $4,046,520 in money during their life.

The 1922 fiscal record shows a considerable gain over and above similar figures for 1921.

DELPHOS LEGION POST TO ACT IN ATHLETIC PLANS

Sports activities of Commemorative Post, Delphos American Legion, will be the chief topic of discussion at an important meeting Thursday night. Commander Ira Huber has sent out a call for a large attendance.

Baseball plans will be aired. The new baseball committee, as manager will probably be announced. At the last December meeting the legion decided to retain the ball club for 1923 despite a deficit of $239.45, incurred in its promotion during the last season.

Steps will be taken immediately to float the team on a bigger and better basis, according to officials of the legion.

Report of the auditing committee composed of Kenneth Krutich, William Eichenhorst and W. D. Swihart, will be presented.

DOG LICENSES FOR 1923 MOUNT TO 600

Rush for dog tags became sufficiently strong Wednesday to push the total issued past the 600 mark, records in the office of C. R. Phillips, county auditor, show.

The total number of dog tags sold in 1922 was 596.3. In 1921, 549 were disposed of.

T. B. Sevlitz, clerk of Marion-tp., is confined to his home at 803 E. Third-st., Delphos, suffering from a severe attack of jaundice.

WANTED: A MAN

"Anyone as good looking as you," said the judge, "does not deserve to be given more time to get a husband."

LUNCHEON CLUBS AND PLACE IN COMMUNITY IS TOLD BY PEARMAN

"Place of the Luncheon Club in the Community" was explained by Tom Pearman, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at the regular luncheon of the Lions club Wednesday noon at the Elks home.

Every club should have a definite aim and a goal toward which it should be striving, he said. This gives the members something to work for and makes them interested in the activities of the club.

Enthusiasm and loyalty were two other factors which would make luncheon clubs decisive factors in their respective circles and in the community, Pearman pointed out. He advocated cooperation in every worthwhile community enterprise.

Work in the state and in the county by the Lions clubs cooperating with the state department of citizen rehabilitation was explained by Marlow B. Perrin, state supervisor and George Groves, expert. They complimented the local club for its activity.

Following a report by Joel Spiker regarding the Lion's milk fund it was decided by the club to furnish five quarts of milk each day to the undernourished children at the Day Nursery. This is a continuation of the Christmas work started during the holidays and will be continued throughout the year.

NO MOVE IS MADE BY BAR BODY

Action Halted in Trubey Case as Accused Files Charges.

COMMITTEE IS RETIRED

Meeting of Association Called for 3 p. m. Wednesday.

That additional charges will be filed against R. R. Trubey, assistant prosecuting attorney, by the Allen-co Bar association, was deemed unlikely by Clarence H. Klinger, president, after it was learned that Trubey had filed complaint against himself late Tuesday night.

Klinger declared that so far as he is concerned the matter is in the hands of the court. The grievance committee members of the bar association were the ones instructed to file complaint in court. He could not speak for them, he said. George H. Quail, chairman of the committee which recommended Trubey's expulsion from the association, declared Wednesday he and the other members of the committee are out of the matter. The committee automatically retired January 1.

BAR BODY TO MEET

Some action on the Trubey matter may be taken by the bar body late Wednesday. A meeting of the association was called for 3 p. m. by President Klinger. The object was not stated. Committees for 1923, however, may be named at the meeting.

Naming of a court committee to investigate the complaints filed in person by Trubey will be the next move in the case, it is stated.

Judge Fred C. Becker, who has the power to appoint the committee, had not acted at noon Wednesday.

Trubey appeared in common pleas court at 5 p. m. Tuesday, with a petition setting forth the charges originally preferred against him by Benjamin F. Welty, former member of congress.

When it became evident, no charges would be filed against him by the bar association committee, Trubey handed his petition to John T. Cotner, clerk of the court, for filing.

The complaint covers all previous allegations investigated by the court committee and the bar association committee.

Request is made by Trubey that the court cause all the evidence in the matter to be laid before a special grand jury in charge of a special prosecutor.

ADDED CHARGES

The Welty charges grew out of litigation between rival Lima sign companies, it is stated. Trubey is accused of having used his office to force one H. G. Russell to pay a fee, on threat of prosecution on an old charge in Michigan.

Additional charges brought before the bar association accused Trubey of retaining $500 placed in his hands as security by Sadie Morphis, wife of Louis Morphis, convicted in common pleas court.

Another instance brought to attention of the body was alleged retention by Trubey of $300 given him by W. L. Flannagan, and belonging to Leo Clements.

Trubey Wednesday reiterated his demand that the trial or investigation of the matter be held in public.

PROBE STARTS IN STOIOFF CASE

Large Number of Witnesses Called in Blackhand Murder.

Investigation of the murder of Rayen Stoioff, aged Bulgarian, shot to death by Blackhand gunmen in the grocery of Alex George, in N. Pine-st., will come before the Allen-co grand jury Wednesday.

A large throng of alien witnesses, including Alex George, son-in-law of the dead man, sit in the corridor of the gloomy county building awaiting their turn to tell the tragic story of the shooting.

Alex George, recently naturalized, reflects in his attire the prosperity brought by shrewdness, frugality and toil, that must have aroused the avarice of the dreaded Camorra.

An overcoat of costly fabric hung from his broad shoulder. Beneath its fold was a nobby tailored suit. A derby hat and walking stick topped off the picture.

Alex stood discussing the case with Roy Bowersock, detective, who has been working on the murder mystery. His relatives and friends in the Lima Bulgarian colony were grouped nearby.

Blanket indictments are expected to be returned against a trio of suspects which are said to be under surveillance of the authorities.

Chief of Police T. A. Lanker and other police officers are witnesses in many cases.

PUBLIC DISCUSSION

All interested citizens are invited to attend the open meeting to discuss the direct oxidation method of sewage disposal to be held by the city commission Thursday at 3 p. m. city manager Bingham announced. H. Jerome Hirst, oxidation expert, will meet with the commissioners.

Subject will be selected by a K. or C. committee and the awards made at graduation time in the spring. Committee will be appointed later.

Two inter-council meetings were announced. Ottoville council will come to Delphos January 6 and Delphos council will return the compliment February 6.

Arrangements have been made to bring Rev. H. S. Gable, former Delphos priest, to the city January 16 to address the Knights of Columbus.

The K. of C. committee on building dressing rooms at the new swimming pool installed in Delphos city park will meet soon with the Kiwanis park committee to select the type of building. The Knights of Columbus and C. D. of A. will provide funds for the structure.

CITY DEPARTMENT HEADS COMPILING REPORTS, TO BE READY BY WEEK-END

Annual reports of the various city departments are now being compiled and will be filed at city hall within the week, C. A. Bingham, city manager believes.

Each department will make a report of the work accomplished during the past year and with the inventory statement will show the progress made.

A full report by the public works department may not be possible, due to the death of Vaughn C. Miller, city engineer, early in December. It is probable that a general report will be made by one of the engineers in which the total achievements are summed up.

Because of the large number of bills received at the end of the year it may not be possible for the auditor to complete his report until late this week, it was said. This report will show the amount of money received, borrowed and the balance on hand December 31, 1922.

Other reports due the police and fire department statements, are easily compiled and should be ready within a day or two, Bingham said.

TIRE PRICES BOOSTED

BLOW AIMED AT MASKED BANDS

Directed In Bills Offered in Ohio Legislature

DEATH PENALTY PROVIDED

Repeal Of Anti-Lobby Law Sought In Measure

COLUMBUS — (Associated Press) — The Ku Klux Klan today has been given recognition for the first time in an Ohio legislature. Three bills, introduced in the house yesterday, had as their purpose the control of the actions of the Klan and other similar organizations.

The killing of one person by another "while engaged in committing or attempting to commit a felony or misdemeanor while the face is masked" would be made first degree murder with the usual penalty of death unless there be a recommendation of mercy, under provisions of a bill introduced in the house by M. A. Broadstone, of Greene Co. In another bill introduced by Mr. Broadstone, the action of a masked person in assaulting or threatening another or striking or wounding him would be punishable by from one to fifteen years. Mr. Broadstone said the measures were not aimed particularly at the Klan.

The Ku Klux Klan and other similar organizations would be forced to file lists of their officers with, and obtain charters from the secretary of state under pain of a fine of from $10 to $10,000 under a bill introduced by Representative Harding of Warren Co.

ANTI-LOBBY LAW

The anti-lobby law which for the past ten years was presumed to have shielded the way for legislators from the "wiles of the briber" and the "siren voice of the special interest tempter" violates the "rights and freedom of American citizenship" and must be done to death, according to Representative A. Ross Read, Democrat, of Akron.

Read yesterday introduced a bill in the house of representatives seeking to repeal the law and presented with it a stern indictment.

The law, he says, is a "dead letter" so far as it affects the pernicious lobbyist; it gives "special privileges" to some and denies rights of others; it implies that legislators are made of "poor stuff" and "fall prey to the siren voice of the special interest tempter or the wiles of the briber" and lastly "compels the honored constituent to pay $3 for the privilege of conferring with his representative."

For all of which reasons Mr. Read asks that the law be stricken from the statute books.

Three proposed constitutional amendments were before the legislature today. One by Representative

ASKED $100,000 FOR KISSES

"Stolen kisses" worth $100,000 (her valuation) must be paid for, Mrs. Alma Smythe of Alexandria, Va., told the Washington court. She asked that sum in her suit against Leighton Taylor, secretary to late Senator James Tamm.

Johnston, Democrat of Richland Co., would give the legislature authority to classify vehicles, including automobiles, for taxation, another by Representative Read, Democrat of Summit Co., would repeal that action of the initiative and referendum which prohibits use of it in obtaining the enactment of legislation concerning property for taxation.

The third proposed amendment, also offered by Representative Read would require a literacy test for voters, the legislature enacting laws prescribing requirements.

Should the legislature act favorably on the proposal, they would be submitted to the voters for ratification at the next November election.

WOMEN WALK IN ICE BAREFOOT

Working Conditions At Mining Camp Described by Probers

NEW YORK — (United Press) — Living and working conditions in the Berwind-White Coal mines of Pennsylvania which supply the Interboro Rapid Transit Company with coal are "worse than that of slaves before the Civil War," committee appointed by Mayor Hylan to probe labor conditions reported today.

Women and children were found walking barefoot in the ice in the mining camps, their feet and limbs scarred and bleeding, the report said.

"No Egyptian Pharaoh seeking for his glory a towering monument, ever drove his slaves harder than these miners are driven," the committee added.

"No czar was more autocratic than were these representatives of predatory so-called big business."

WHERE FAMILIES LIVE

Many miners' families were forced to live in ten houses and shacks. It was charged, the committee also declaring that "once a miner is allowed to work in one of the Berwind-White mines, he is unable to leave again."

"A proper motto at the entrance of the mine would be 'Abandon Hope, All Ye Who Enter Here!'" the report continued.

The Transit Company which the mines supply with coal operates subway and elevated systems in New York. Drafted by David Hirschfeld, city commissioner of accounts, the report recommended that the government take over the coal fields and "operate them for the benefit of the people," and declared that only when the city of New York takes over and operates "these transit lines for the benefit of the people will the city be in a position to purchase coal from operators who pay their employees a living wage and treat them like human beings."

ROOMS SEARCHED — The investigation committee instead of receiving aid at the mine in determining facts, was splashed upon and rooms of the members were searched. It was stated. Charges that treatment of miners that resulted in a strike cost the transit company $2,000,000 extra for fuel were also made.

E. J. Berwind, president of the Berwind-White Company, was enabled as chairman of the directors of the transit company to purchase from his own company coal mined under heart-breaking conditions and reap therefrom an enormous profit the report continued.

The committee last October visited the mine fields and found hundreds of strikers and their families evicted and suffering from cold it was added.

"It did not take us long," said the committee, "to learn that the Berwind-White Coal Company treated their employees as beasts of burden and sacrificed the lives and limbs of thousands of men and the future happiness of thousands of women and children to build for themselves an industrial autocracy."

ELECTION DECISION GIVEN — COLUMBUS — The state supreme court ruled that county commissioners elected at the last election to take the place of incumbents serving the short term are entitled to the office.

DANGER TO ROAD WORK SEEN

Fears Repeal Of State Highway Levy

WOULD STOP CONSTRUCTION

Loss Of Federal Aid For Three Years Forecasted

Entire cessation of highway construction in Ohio is foreseen by Lima Automobile club officials, if a plan to repeal the present state road levy of one-half mill is successful.

Developments of the past few weeks indicate that an effort will be made during the first week of the legislative session to rush thru an act repealing the measure and undoing legislation carefully built up during the administrations of Governors James M. Cox, Frank B. Willis and Harry Davis.

Joe Hartline, president of the auto club, also predicts an attempt will be made to put the limitation of 14 mills on township and county taxes for state road purposes.

TAX IS SMALL

The half-mill levy goes toward construction of state roads, Hartline says. He points out that the tax is so small that it amounts to only $5 on a $10,000 farm. The present law also authorizes local county and township levies outside tax limitations, the proceeds of which constitute the only source of funds used by the counties in cooperating with the state in road construction.

No well matured plan for raising money for roads from other sources has been worked out, according to Hartline, a substitute for laws now in effect, which represent the best thought and effort of five general assemblies.

Hartline fears adoption of such a plan will mean the loss to the state of federal highway aid money allocated by Congress to Ohio for the next three years.

Through the Ohio Good Roads association, officials of the local auto club hope to see legislation enacted, which will wipe out the road assessments on abutting property and pay for roads with a township and county levy.

IT IS WONDERFUL, SAYS LIMA MAN

Plant Juice Gave Relief From His Stomach, Kidney and Bladder Troubles

IMPROVED ENTIRE SYSTEM

When suffering men and women take Plant Juice and derive relief from their health troubles through its use, they want other sufferers to know about it. That is why so many Lima citizens are now calling on The Plant Juice Man and giving public testimonials regarding the relief they have derived through use of Plant Juice. They feel it is a duty to let other suffering people know about the medicine that has helped them.

Just recently, Mr. Charles Green, of 339 South Elizabeth street, Lima, a well known local citizen, called on The Plant Juice Man at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, and gave the following testimony: "For several years," said Mr. Green, "I had suffered from stomach and kidney trouble and my bladder was in a weakened condition. I had no appetite. I suffered from bad pains in my back, was restless and couldn't sleep right at night and felt tired out."

"I tried many medicines but nothing seemed to do me any good and then I began to read about Plant Juice in the papers and finally I started taking it. I could feel the effect of Plant Juice from the first and now my stomach and kidneys are greatly improved. My food does me good now, I sleep well and do not feel so tired out. My bladder also is improving right along."

"I can highly recommend Plant Juice after the good it did me and can say that I think it is a wonderful medicine. The entire system seems to be benefited by its use."

Plant Juice is a natural medicine, made from the juices of various forms of medicinal plant life and it seems to have a surprising effect upon the stomach, liver and kidneys. It has given relief in more than a million cases in all parts of the United States.

The Plant Juice Man is at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, Lima, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

Plant Juice is sold also in Lima at Hunter's drug store at Main and Wayne streets and at the Argonne drug store, opposite Post Office.

I feel I am doing good to recommend it to others." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation, which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments including appendicitis. ## PURCHASES RIGHT TO REMAIN HERE

George Saxby Buys Citizenship at Cost of $600.

Ordered to quit Lima by January 14 or pay the remainder of a fine of $1,000 levied by Judge E. J. Jackson on a liquor charge, George Saxby, owner of a cigar store, southeast corner of the public square, decided that the payment of $600 would be preferable to departing from the city.

When arrested several weeks ago, a $1,000 fine was levied. Saxby was informed by the court, however, that if he would rid the city of his presence by January 14, the fine would be reduced to $400. Saxby paid the $600 and then took under consideration his future plans.

"Friends came to my rescue," Saxby said Wednesday, "and assisted me in paying the remainder of the assessment, so I guess I'll remain in Lima."

The city exchequer was appalled to the extent of $1,150 as a result of fines collected in two days in Judge Jackson's court. The total included Saxby's deferred payment, $100, G. C. Hupsteter, of Delphos and various smaller tributes laid against others.

Cambridge, Ohio — Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery did me more good than any other medicine I have ever taken. I had become all run down, was so weak I could scarcely walk around. It gave me such wonderful help that I do not hesitate to recommend it to others who are ailing as I was.

DAVIS MAY SIGN TAX BILL TODAY

Measure Abolishing State Levies Then Becomes Law

ASSEMBLY SETS RECORD

85th Legislature Starts With Unusual Speed

COLUMBUS — (Associated Press) — With more business transacted in two days than most legislative bodies can point to after several weeks of work, members of Ohio's eighty-fifth general assembly today were enroute to their homes where they will remain until they return next Monday for Governor-elect Donahay's inauguration.

Preceded by a tranquil session on Monday, yesterday's meeting took on a hectic aspect soon after the vote of the November election had been canvassed and Governor Davis' final message read, and before both houses recessed late in the afternoon, each had passed a bill abolishing state tax levies bringing in an annual revenue of $6,500,000, ten other measures had been introduced in the house and the senate had completed its committee assignments for the session. Both houses also had completed the usual organization routine, which in itself ordinarily occupies the time of the first two days.

MAY SIGN TODAY
The request for the taxation legislation was made in Governor Davis' message which pointed out that the existence of a surplus of $19,500,000 in the state's general revenue, would make it possible to operate without the direct levies. The message was read in both the house and senate shortly before noon and it was only a matter of about four hours until both had passed the bill and it was ready for the chief executive's signature. The governor was out of the city yesterday but it was expected that he would sign it on his return today.

The bill abolishes the state road levy of 5 mill yielding more than $2,000,000 annually and the 1/2 mill state levy for aiding weak school districts, yielding more than $1,500,000 each year. Money for both of these purposes would be taken from the general revenue fund after the bill becomes effective September 1, 1923. Since the 1922 tax levies already are made and in process of collection, the real effects of the bill would not be felt until 1924.

TOTAL REDUCTION
In addition to the state levies abolished by the bill, a levy of 1/2 mill for building purposes at the three state supported universities and a levy of .25 mill for charitable institutions, will expire by limitation at the end of 1923. These two levies now produce more than $2,500,000 yearly, which would make the total reduction in state levies at the end of 1923, a total of 1,025 mills or more than $10,250,000.

Specific provision is made in the bill for the care of weak school districts which were maintained under the school levy abolished. An "educational equalization fund" is to be created by appropriations from the general fund from which school districts not self-supporting would receive aid. This clause, however, did not completely satisfy the representatives and senators in whose districts are located the school districts now receiving state funds and they demanded and received a pledge from the majority caucuses of both houses that appropriations equal to or more than the funds now granted them, would be made.

The legislators are expected to plunge into the work of the session next Tuesday. While a session will be held on Monday, it was expected to amount to nothing more than a meeting with an immediate motion to adjourn until Tuesday when delivery of Governor-elect Donahay's message was expected to be followed by introduction of numerous measures and the beginning of the grand committee work.

DAVIS ANTICIPATES DONAHEY

ENACTMENT of a measure by the new legislature in the opening hours of the existence of that body; wiping out the state tax levy entirely, on the recommendation of Governor Harry L. Davis, soon to retire, reflects no special credit on the state chief executive.

He merely anticipated Governor-elect A. V. Donahey, who had promised repeatedly during the 1922 campaign that it was his intention to do that very thing. Governor Davis simply applied his old habit of standing around with his ears open, listening to suggestions made by others and adopting them as his own.

It was no more than right that a Republican administration should undo the results of its own acts. In 1918, when a Republican legislature was elected, the state tax levy was less than one-half mill, and Governor Cox and Vic Donahey, then auditor of state, planned to wipe it out altogether, getting support for state institutions from general revenue.

The Republican legislature, elected simultaneously with Governor Cox for his third term, began boosting the state levy unnecessarily, and although Governor Cox vetoed the measures, they were passed over his veto. When Governor Davis went into office in 1921, with a general assembly even more strongly Republican, further increases were made, until the total was 3.685 mills.

A surplus of $19,000,000 which Governor Davis points to as being left by his administration in the state treasury was collected from the people of Ohio unnecessarily. It is right that a Republican administration should wipe out the exorbitant levy. It should not have been imposed as a burden on the people in the first place. Democratic members of the present body demonstrated their consistency in voting for the wiping out of the levy.

The money is available for use, the exorbitant levy is not to be continued and under the circumstances it will work to the benefit of cities which have depleted treasuries. Governor Davis is at least to be commended for hurrying along a necessary move. Governor Donahey's program included action of that sort.

FUEL ESCAPING THRU CHIMNEYS

MUCH has been said about conservation of coal since various conditions have pushed prices to the present high level. Householders have experienced a heavy drain on their pocket-books this winter in supplying their homes with fuel. Many are the groans heard as the black diamonds are shoveled into furnaces.

But what is being done by the consumer himself to cut down the consumption of coal and make five tons do as much heating as usually is done by six. One need only glance at chimneys about Lima to see where a large amount of coal goes. It floats off into the air above us in the form of smoke, rich in heating qualities, if it is properly confined. Furnace men will tell you that not more than one in ten knows how to fire a furnace to get the best results with the least amount of coal.

What applies in homes with reference to the waste of coal also may be found in a number of factories and business houses with central heating plants. Heavy black smoke rolls out of chimneys and hangs in clouds about the city. Lima has no smoke ordinance to regulate such matters. One should be drafted. It would mean a saving to consumers of coal as well as prevent a nuisance which sooner or later must be dealt with.

DISEASE, THE GREAT WRECKER

MALARIA caused the downfall of the civilizations of Rome and Greece, say anthropologists at a convention of scientists in Boston. Both nations were free of malaria until it was brought in by slaves captured in battle, then spread by mosquitoes.

Smallpox germs, carried by soldiers of Cortez who were almost immunized against it, ravaged the Aztecs, weakened their military power until they were easily conquered.

The frontier guards of civilization are the laboratory scientists, fighting bacteria.

CONGESTION IN OUR COURTS

FEDERAL courts in the New York district are swamped with untold cases. Piled up behind the three district judges are about 23,000 cases waiting to be heard. Many of these will be two or three years "coming to bat."

But the situation merely reflects on a large scale the condition of most American courts most of the time. We need a referee system to examine all cases before putting them to judge and jury, and throw out foolish disputes, also ones that could be settled by compromise. Too many laws is the big trouble.

They are kicking about the shells a famous dancer wears, claiming the young lady shell shocks the public.

We don't know which would go 't' the first without the other—Rockefeller or Ford. Many a criminal 'll get a pardon this fall that really ought 't' get a box of nickel cl-er warm, rain betimes, albeit the coldest mercury of the year predicted for this night.

Out, avoiding the poste, and direct to the office, where for an hour anon, engaged at my stint. Thence to a mocracy, and found M'leat Cunningham in good mood to entertain my proposals. So, all merry and gay.

Out, and into the Academy, having there a trim by Prof. Fisher, and bot a new pair shoe strings of Pete Columbus. Thence, to the office, and sat. Until came Dee, and with her to the transhed, seeing there Frank Holmes, the young engineer, and Ken Johnson, the C. C. expert, going to Michigan this day. Many about the B. & O. but the janitor, methinks, is still on holiday pleasure bent. Gave Dee 15c for lunch aboard cars, and cautioned her against not reading the prices on the menu. Many times, you over order. Sticking to eggs is better policy, betimes.

Home, to lunch with my wife, poor wretch; all the morning at her wash, having risen long before I it being sunshine at the tube, George gave us pommes de terre, in soup form; and a melange of omelette, with head lettuce salads. But no sweet this day.

So to the Club, and in discourse with the Drs. Kniesly, holding a father and son clinic. In the mails, came a New Year's gift from Dick Hughes, (Tiffany) senior. From St. Peter, Florida. A handsomely carved soup bone, with a little bungalow by the roadside, and from the overglades the glorious sunrise, peeping. And there, too, a Buick roadster with Wally King at the wheel, a life insurance policy in his hand.

In the late afternoon, my wife sent me to the baths. Altho was not Saturday, she saying I had become mixed between New Year's eve and Saturday night. On the street, waved to Ainsworth Kahle and M'leat Pringle, the gas meter man.

Dined at The Mikado, on a thick okra soup, roast beef, potatoes mashed into gravy, a combination salad, and peach pie a la mode. So, to The Sigma, to see the Talmadge sister play "East is West." And very much like the play, as we saw it in New York two seasons ago.

Thence home, and late reading Capt. Blood. Who killed a man in his tracks with a pike, and cleaved a swain a mutinous lieutenant. Shaking and much afraid, into the lonesome twin. Thinking what I could tell Walter Powlands, to make him wait.

CHILBLAINS

Persons with feeble circulation are subject to chilblains. And barring exceptional instances of organic disease, feeble circulation is attributable usually to the habit of coddling (wearing more clothing than comfort requires and relying upon excessive artificial warmth to keep the body warm) or neglect of regular daily exercise or both of these sins combined. In little ones the trouble is chiefly coddling; in older persons it is chiefly laziness and the low cost of flivvering. Occasionally chilblains occur where the victim is neither lazy nor coddled, but either subject to some disease which impairs the circulation or exposed to extraordinary cold and wet. I frankly acknowledge that chilblains are due to exposure to cold and dampness, taking cold in the skin, without any reservations or regrets. In fact frostbite is the only pathological entity which can be proved to be due to exposure to cold or dampness.

The bright or dusky redness (erythema) of the affected area of skin whether on the fingers, toes, soles, cheeks, ears or nose, disappears under pressure of the finger but immediately returns when the pressure is removed. Tenderness, itching or burning sensations accompany the redness, especially if the part is brought near artificial heat. The chilblain feels cool to the touch, not hot.

The first factor in prevention is proper clothing. Many misguided mothers imagine little tots require proportionately more clothing to keep them comfortable in winter than adults do. This is a serious mistake. Children naturally have a more efficient internal heating system than adults and as a rule they suffer depression if they are heavily loaded with all sorts of coddling calculated to "protect" them from "taking cold." I do not advise bare knees as an essential mode for all children, but I say that there is no doubt that children who go bare-kneed thruout the winter are less susceptible to disease, and warmer or more comfortable in the severest cold, than are children who are coddled. The less clothing a child, or anybody else, wears at any time and in any environment, having due regard for physical (not mental) comfort, the better for health.

Excessive sweating of the feet favors chilblains. If the stockings are very damp when removed, the sweating should be controlled by proper treatment. Wood or cashmere stocking feet are advisable, provided underclothing of similar texture is worn, but not, I think, when cotton or linen underclothing is worn in winter. Cork insoles afford good insulation for the feet. Care should be taken to avoid steel or iron pegs in soles or heels. Rubbers rather favor chilblain and should never be worn except when one must walk thru the wet. Tight shoes impede circulation and favor chilblains. Low shoes or oxfords are preferable to high shoes or boots tightly buttoned or laced about the ankle or leg.

To remove chilblains rub the affected area with camphorated oil (camphor liniment) or witch hazel or bay rum, then paint with a solution of two drams of tincture of ichthyol in an ounce of water, and powder with talcum, or in mild cases omit the ichthyol.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Two of our neighbors are forever singing the praises of "Old Doctor Brady's Bran Gemz," which they say have just about killed the pill trade in their homes. Won't you give us the recipe for these wonderful gems?

Answer—One cupful each of wheat flour, white bran and sweet milk, one egg well beaten, butter the size of a walnut, in hot, pinch of salt, teaspoonful of baking powder. Shake all together in any convenient size hat. Roll in gemz tin. This I do when the Indian sard doctor has the liver complaint and can't get around to his customers.

Tonsils and X-ray
Please inform me in what ways tonsils may be removed other than by surgery. Is X-ray of any value?—If W. B.

Answer—I know of no other way than surgery. X-ray treatment will shrink tonsils and adenoids in children and is the method to be preferred in many such cases. X-ray treatment is sufficient for merely enlarged tonsils. It is not very effective for infected tonsils, nor does it seem to have much effect upon old fibroid or "unimpaired" tonsils.

Whooping Cough
How long must a child have whooping cough before there ceases to be danger of giving it to others?—S. W.

Answer—Average 70 days. Perhaps less than three weeks in some cases. Unquestionably longer, six weeks, in other cases. Child should be kept isolated until all coughing ceases. (Copyright 1922.)

RUSSIANS BUILD CITY IN BERLIN

Have Own Stores, Banks, Theatres and Newspapers

EQUALS COLUMBUS IN SIZE

Restaurants Spring Up Wherever Night Life Blooms

(BY CARL D. GROOT) — BERLIN. — (United Press) — Russians are building within Berlin a Russian city of no mean proportions.

Already their colony has reached a population figure as large as that of Columbus, O., Indianapolis, or Denver, according to estimates of the local Soviet embassy.

The Russians have their own stores and banks, their own cafes and theatres, music halls and papers.

Wherever night life blooms, one finds now a Russian restaurant springing up. The cook of the Czar is employed in one. Prince Czars and Princesses That are managing others. Little Russian theatres, with the fascinating art and music of Moscow, lure the German and the visiting foreigner as well as hundreds of the Russian colony.

"Der blaue Vogel" (the "Blue Bird") showing the same places as the "Chauve Souris" in New York, is the pioneer in Russian theatres. One sits and smokes and drinks as in Moscow; one absorbs the beauty, the pathos, the whimsical humor of the playlets even the one does not know the language. Then there is the "Russischen Romantisches Theatre" with dancing unparalleled anywhere in the world; and, too, the "Karusell" where accompanied by throbbing music, one sees the bloodthirsty river pirate throw his bride into the Volga because his companions complain that he loves her more than his profession.

Out in some portions of the west end one hears more Russian than German. That is where dwell the fugitives who have saved something of their pre-war fortunes, or who have built up a new fortune in honest or dishonest trading here.

In the other end of town, one sees another class of Russians—dirty, baggy, cowering. Unregistered with the police, they pursue a shady life which mingles trading with thieving.

The Russians lead in numbers of population in the foreign colony.

ENGLISH SPEAKING COLONY

There is an English-speaking colony of about 500 persons, which is swollen during the traveling season to about 5,000, according to American consular estimates.

The English speaking colony consists of American and British officials, a few business men and newspaper men.

The American colony, extended during the past year, now has its luncheon club, assembling every week or two. Then there is a certain amount of social life, the heart of which lies within the American embassy. Weekly "at homes" have been introduced recently by Mrs. Houghton, the ambassador's wife; while the ambassador with his pleasant dinners is known among the diplomatic colony as one of the most sociable of hosts. Within his short period of service here he has established excellent relations with German, British, American and French diplomats and business men.

The French colony is comparatively small. Life for a Frenchman in Berlin is not too cheery, for he is hated by the German with an abounding hate.

Just now the government is striving to reduce the immigration, especially of Polish and Russian Jews. Likewise a more careful supervision of visa issuance is being made in America and England, so that at the moment practically only travelers with business here can get German visas.

SECRET OF COUE'S POWER REVEALED

NEW YORK.—(Special).—Emile Coue, apostle of auto-suggestion, who will lecture in America soon, is called a man of superior power and exceptional ability by Jessie Allen Fowler, famous phrenologist.

This phrenological diagnosis of Coue has been made by Miss Fowler for The News.

(BY JESSIE ALLEN FOWLER) Director, American Institute of Phrenology.

The secret of Emile Coue's influence is seen in his wonderful persuasive power, which is a combination of his large benevolence or sympathy, spirituality or faith, and casualty or reason. Further, he is a great organizer and systematizer.

His conscientiousness and spirituality are the radiating qualities of his mind, and they show thru his remarkably high head. With his spiritualized mind it is easy for him to use auto-suggestion on himself, and present the same theory to others.

WILL NEVER GROW OLD

His organ of language is largely represented, hence he ought to show fluency of speech and power to communicate his thoughts to others, both orally and in writing.

His height of head also shows that he has great adaptability of mind and youthfulness of spirit. He will never grow old, as he has youthfulness of thought and feeling. He has also a large development of hope, which gives him great optimism, resourcefulness of mind, and capacity to live up to his theories.

He has remarkable energy of mind, which shows in the width of his side head. Therefore he is a willing supporter of hard work.

His face is illuminated by his keen intelligence. His eyes show sincerity and intensity of mind, and his nose shows remarkable poise and well-controlled will power.

His lips are firm and self-sustaining, while his chin appears to indicate longevity and endurance.

His ear indicates health and vitality, and there is a brightness about

Key to diagram of Jessie Allen Fowler's phrenological study of Emile Coue: 1, conscientiousness or justice; 2, hope or optimism; 3, spirituality or faith; 4, benevolence or sympathy; 5, causality or reason; 6, eventuality or memory of names and events; 7, perceptives or scientific powers; 8, destructiveness or energy; 9, ear; health and vitality; 10, nose; controlled will power; 11, lips; poise and refinement; 12, chin; longevity and endurance.

the whole countenance that shows mental growth and inspiration.

He is sure to have a powerful influence over others thru the characteristics with which he has been endowed and which he has enhanced by cultivation.

The wedding, which was solemnized Christmas Day at 11 o'clock at the parsonage of the Rev. Samuel Huecker, pastor of Market Street Presbyterian church, is the culmination of a high school romance.

Mr. Mosher and his bride are now making their home in Springfield, where the former is connected with the Illinois Bank.

Prior to the wedding, the bride was a member of the senior class of the Lima Central high school while the bridegroom was in his second year at the University of Michigan.

GOOD MANNERS

It is no longer customary to require children to say "Yes, sir," or "Yes, ma'am" in answering their elders.

Still, some deference should be shown. Good form is "Yes, father," "No mother," or "Thank you, Mr. Smith."

Manner is as important as the form or speech. The child should be courteous and respectful in conversation with those considerably older than himself.

Other officers are Mrs. Edna Rouchart, vice-president; Miss Margaret Blinnig, secretary; Miss Florence Allen, treasurer; Mrs. Esther Warner and Mrs. Lucille Watkins, altruistic committee.

Susie Smart's Advice

Dear Mrs. Smart: I AM a girl of 18 years and am considered by many to be more than good looking. I have been keeping company with a young man in a nearby city, who is studying law. We have been engaged for three months and several days ago he took me in his car to his home to meet his mother and sister and to have dinner with them. They seemed pleased to meet me, but later became chilly and I believe they were jealous of my good appearance. Since that evening, my fiance has failed to call on me and told me when I called him up it was all off. I am still wearing his ring. It is a heavy and I dislike parting with it. Shall I return it to him and await him or wait until he asks for it? I am better looking than his mother or sister either.

WORRIED. JUST one word of advice to you first! The sooner you forget how handsome and good looking you are, the better. False pride and conceit usually tend to lose more friends for a girl than anything else. You are attractive and very nice and you are quite fortunate, but don't, for goodness sake, make the mistake of thinking about it all the time and flatter yourself into believing that you excel everyone else in looks. It is utterly absurd for you to state that your fiance's mother and sister disapproved of you because of your good looks. Instead, it would be natural for them to be happy to know that their son and brother had displayed such wise judgment and discretion in choosing his future wife.

If your fiance really loved you he would not permit his mother or sister to influence him in ceasing his attentions toward you. Perhaps he has discovered that he no longer cares for you as he once believed and has not the courage to tell you. In any event, you made a great mistake in calling him after he had failed to communicate with you.

Unless your fiance takes some big steps in proving the depth of his love for you, you can only assume that he no longer cares for you. Return his ring and offer him his freedom. Then console yourself with the fact that you have discovered this man's love for you was not sufficient to justify marriage. Perhaps that sounds a bit crude and harsh, but wouldn't it be far better to endure a few weeks of loneliness and disappointment than to suffer years of unhappiness and discontent?

DOES THE WOMAN PAY?

"We All Pay—Go Bankrupt, Too"

By MARIAN HALE

Does the woman pay? "Every human being pays," says Burton Rascoe, literary critic, columnist and author, "and pays and pays!"

"Finally, everyone declares bankruptcy and the undertaker is called in as receiver."

"The new-born infant's anguished yell marks indignation on his first glance at the long account immediately presented."

"However, men usually pay in lump sums—roughly, equal to their respective weekly spend."

"Women pay in small change. EIGHT TO EIGHTEEN."

"A man works by the day; woman, by the hour and minute."

"A day to a man is eight hours; to a woman, eighteen."

"Man can reckon his achievements in the same way—in the lump."

"Financially speaking, women may not seem to pay as much as men. That's because they haven't got it to hand over. It's been held out on them."

"Necessary, indispensable services usually are poorly remunerated. They have to be performed, so they don't have to be liberally rewarded. They'll get done, anyhow. They must."

"It's all a question of bookkeeping. The books are cooked by the cashier."

"The question of morals is more difficult."

"A man's idea of morality is a device whereby he may leave his cake and eat somebody else's."

"This sounds as if it ought to be C. W. C's of Delphos will meet Thursday evening with Mrs. Oscar Heyser, E. Second-st."

Miss Alice Gonella, N. West-st., will entertain the members of the Zenda Shen club at her home, Wednesday evening.

Thimble club will meet with Mrs. F. M. Miller, 1428 S. Main-st., Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. C. Crown, N. Shore Drive, will entertain the members of the Oneta club at her home, Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. H. R. Reese, Lowell-av., is home from a visit over the holidays with friends and relatives in Cleveland, Lakewood and Medina.

possible, but it isn't. While you're eating the other fellow's, he probably is nibbling at yours.

"So a man never knows where he is."

"A woman does. Even if she's ruined, she has the mental satisfaction of knowing it. She can say, 'Well, that's that,' and remain calm."

"But how does a man know whether his 'honour' is safe or not when he's put it in his wife's name?"

"His condition's pitiable. All he can do it to write letters to the papers about the way girls are bobbing their hair and wearing gossamers unbuckled."

"This is one reason why women are observed to exchange strange, sudden glances over a man's head, and bite their lips to subdue a smile."

"On the whole, the man gets the worst of it. But as long as he doesn't realize it, perhaps he's the better off."

"Here, again, the paying becomes a matter of bookkeeping, and there's no impartial appraiser to fix the valuation of the intangible assets!"

(This is the fourth of a series of interviews with well-known men and women on the question: "Does the woman pay?")

Why the "Morning Grouch?"

Many people awake feeling irritable and nervous—and are annoyed at trifles they wouldn't notice at any other time.

This irritable feeling lasts until after they have had their cup of coffee—sometimes it takes the second cup.

The reason for this is simple; their nerves are crying out for the caffeine contained in the coffee they crave.

And now, if this "strikes home," ask yourself why you should not quit a habit that makes you nervous and irritable.

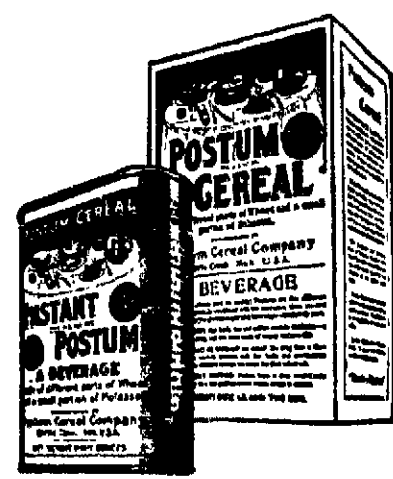

Be your natural self; try doing without coffee for a week or so—and drink rich, fragrant Postum instead.

Postum is a pure cereal beverage—refreshing and satisfying, yet absolutely free from caffeine or other harmful ingredients.

Postum comes in two forms:—Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling fully twenty minutes.

CAPTAIN BLOOD

BY RAFAEL SABATINI

BEGIN HERE TODAY

An interesting friendship springs up between ARABELLA, niece and ward of COLONEL BISHOP of Barbados, and CAPTAIN BLOOD, who had become the slave of Bishop after having been unjustly convicted on a charge of treason against King James of England. Blood becomes a leader in a plot to escape from the island. Bishop's ship is wrecked.

JEANIE PITT, a young shipmaster, who refuses to answer certain questions put to him by the enraged colonel, who is the owner of both Blood and Pitt.

GO ON WITH THE STORY
"You don't know? Well, here's to quicken your wits." Again the case descended. "Have you thought of his name yet?"

Pitt shrugged, shifted sideways on his feet again, and settled into dogged silence. Colonel Bishop's temper was never one that required much provocation. Fiercely now he looked those defenseless shoulders, accompanying each blow by blasphemy and foul abuse, until the lingering embers of his manhood flamed into momentary flame, Pitt sprang upon his tormentor.

But as he sprang, so also sprang the watchful blacks. Muscular bronze arms coiled crushingly about the frail white body, and in a moment the unfortunate slave stood powerless.

Breathing hard, his face mottled, Bishop pondered him a moment. Then: "Fetch him along," he said. They came out upon the green plateau and headed for the stockade and the overseer's white house. Pitt's eyes looked out over Carlisle Bay, of which this plateau commanded a clear view.

In the roads, standing in for the shore before a gentle breeze that scarcely ruffled the sapphire surface of the Caribbean came a stately redhulled frigate, flying the English ensign.

At her present rate of progress it would be an hour, perhaps, before she came to anchor within the harbor. Pitt was hurried forward into the stockade, and clapped into the stocks that stood there ready for slaves who required correction.

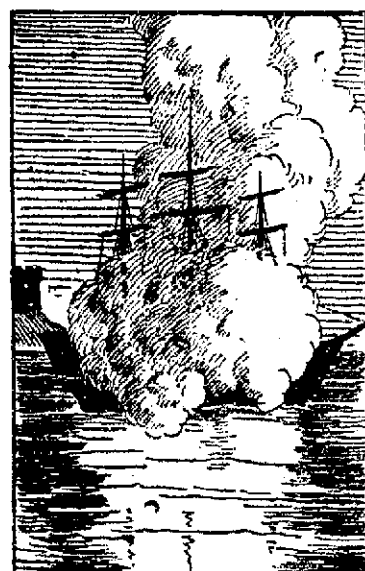

Colonel Bishop followed him presently, with leisurely, rolling gait.

"A mutinous fur that shows his fangs to his master must learn good manners at the cost of a striped hide," was all he said before setting about his executioner's job.

When, at last, from very weariness, Colonel Bishop flung away the stump and thongs to which his cane had been reduced, the wretched slave's back was bleeding pulp from neck to waist.

Colonel Bishop set his foot upon the crossbar, and leaned over his victim, a cruel smile on his full coarse face.

"Let that teach you a proper submission," said he. "And now touching that shy friend of yours, you shall stay here without meat or drink—without meat or drink, I've heard me—until you please to tell me his name and business." He took his foot from the bar. "When you've had enough of this, send me word, and we'll have the branding irons to you."

On that he laughed, swung on his head, and strode out of the stockade, his negroes following.

The slave writhed in his stocks until he was in danger of breaking his limbs, and writhing, screamed in agony.

Thus was he found by Peter Blood, who seemed to the lad's troubled vision to materialize suddenly before him. Mr. Blood carried a large palmetto leaf. Having whisked away with this the flies that were devouring Jeremy's back, he slung it by a strip of fibre from his neck, so that it protected him from further attacks as well as from the rays of the sun.

Next, sitting down beside the sufferer, he drew the lad's head down on his shoulder, and bathed his face from a pannikin of cold water. Pitt shuddered and moaned on a long, indrawn breath.

The great red ship had drawn considerably nearer shore by now. Slowly, majestically, she was entering the bay.

An angry voice aroused him from his unhappy thoughts.

"What the devil are you doing here?"

The returning Colonel Bishop came striding into the stockade, his negroes following ever.

Mr. Blood turned to face him, and over that swarthy countenance—which, indeed, by now was tanned to the golden brown of a half-caste Indian—a mark descended.

"Doing?" said he blandly. "Why, the duties of my office."

The colonel, striding furiously forward, observed two things. The empty pannikin on the seat beside the prisoner, and the palmetto leaf protecting his back.

"I said he was to have neither meat nor drink until I ordered it." "Sure, now, I never heard ye."

"You never heard me? How should you have heard me when you weren't here?"

"Then how did ye expect me to know what orders ye'd given?" Mr. Blood's tone was now positively aggrieved.

The planter thrust him aside with an imprecation, and stooping forward took the palmetto leaf from the prisoner's back.

"In the name of humanity, now..." Mr. Blood was beginning.

At that moment a terrific rolling thunderclap drowned his voice and shook the very air. Colonel Bishop jumped, his negroes jumped with him, and so even did the apparently imperturbable Mr. Blood. Then the four of them stared together seawards.

Down in the bay all that could be seen of the great ship, standing now within a cable's-length of the fort, were her topmasts thrusting above a cloud of smoke in which she was enveloped.

As those men stared from the eminence on which they stood, they saw the British Jack dip from the main truck and vanish into the rising cloud below. A moment more, and up thru that cloud to replace the flag of England soared the gold and crimson banner of Castile. And then they understood.

"Pirates!" roared the colonel. CHAPTER VIII SPANARDS

The stately ship that had been allowed to sail so leisurely into Carlisle Bay under her false colors was a Spanish privateer, coming to pay off some heavy debt piled up by the predacious Brethren of the Coast, and the recent defeat by the Pride of Devon of two treasure galleons bound for Cadiz. It happened that the galleon which escaped in a more or less crippled condition was commanded by Don Diego de Espinosa y Valdez, who was own brother to the Spanish Admiral Don Miguel de Espinosa.

Galled by his defeat, and choosing to forget that his own conduct had invited it he had sworn to teach the English a sharp lesson which they should remember.

He had succeeded so well in his intentions that he had aroused no suspicion until he saluted the fort a short range with a broadside of twenty guns.

As commander of the Barbados Militia, the place of Colonel Bishop was at the head of his scanty troops, in that fort which the Spanish guns were pounding into rubble.

Remembering it, he went off it the double, despite his bulk and the heat, his negroes trotted after him.

Mr. Blood turned to Jeremy Pitt. He laughed grimly. "Now that," said he, "is what I call a timely interruption."

By his time the rebel-convict and slaves were coming in, in twos and threes, having abandoned their work upon finding themselves unguarded and upon scenting the general dismay.

The landing was contested by the militia and by every islander capable of bearing arms with the fierce resolution of men who knew that no quarter was to be expected in defeat.

All thru the scorching afternoon the battle went on. By sunset two hundred and fifty Spaniards were masters of Bridgetown, the islanders were disarmed, and at Government House, Governor Stead—his gait forgotten in his panic—supported by Colonel Bishop and

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Twelve Toes Again

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

And there stood the Sour Old Witch in her doorway, trying her best, not to look sour.

Nancy and Nick were out one day delivering things for the Green Wizard.

You haven't any idea how many things people were always wanting. They had a magic collar-button for Mr. Crow, that wouldn't roll under the hat every time he went to put his collar on.

They had a magic hammer for Mrs. Coon that wouldn't smash her thumb every time she went to hammer in a tack.

Chickie Chipmunk wanted a magic weeder for the garden so he'd have more time to play after school. They had that too!

And they had a hat for Mrs. Cotton that wouldn't go crooked whenever she happened to a party.

They were passing the waterfall, all loaded down with bundles, when suddenly a voice called out, "How do you do, my dears? Won't you come in?"

And there stood the Sour Old Witch in her doorway, trying her best not to look sour.

"Certainly," answered Nancy, who always liked to be polite. "But we can't stay long. We're out delivering."

"What, pray?" asked the Sour Old Witch, who she knew well enough.

"Some magical things the Green Wizard has made for his friends," answered Nick.

"Well, leave them here in my hall, and come into my sitting-room and have a cup of tea," said the Sour Old Witch.

So in went the Twins. But what do you think! Twelve Toes was hiding behind the door. And when the Twins were out of some lesser officers, was being informed by Don Diego, with an urbanity that was itself a mockery, of the sum that would be required in ransom.

For a hundred thousand pieces of eight and fifty head of cattle, Don Diego would forbear from reducing the place to ashes.

Mr. Blood, greatly daring, ventured down at dusk into the town. What he saw was fetching him in baste and white-faced out of that hole again, when in a narrow street a girl hurried into him, wild-eyed, her unbound hair streaming behind her as she ran. After her, laughing and cursing in a breath, came a heavy-booted Spaniard. Almost he was upon her when suddenly Mr. Blood got in his way. The doctor had taken a sword from a dead man's side some little time before and armed himself with it against an emergency.

As the Spaniard checked in anger and surprise, he caught in the dusk the livid gleam of that sword which Mr. Blood had quickly unsheathed.

"Ah, perro ingles!" he shouted, and flung forward to his death.

"It's hoping I'm ye're in a fit state to meet yer blaker," said Mr. Blood, and ran him thru the body. He did the thing skillfully; with the combined skill of swordsman and surgeon.

Mr. Blood swung to the girl, who leaned panting and sobbing against a wall. He caught her by the wrist.

White-faced, physically sick, Mr. Blood dragged her almost at a run up the hill toward Colonel Bishop's house. He knocked, but had to knock again and yet again before he was answered. Then it was by a voice from a window above.

"Who is there?" The voice was Miss Bishop's, a little tremulous, but unmistakably her own.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 50c.

BILLY EVANS SAYS

This game was one of the battles of the college football season. The first half ended with the score 13 to 0 in favor of Lafayette and W. & J. was apparently hopelessly beaten. Between halves Coach "Greasy" Neale conferred with his players and in the second half Washington and Jefferson played a different team. They scored two touchdowns, made two points after touchdowns, and won 14 to 13.

* * *

One critic, commenting upon the game, said that it was Neale who really won, and had not Neal to his players what he did between halves, Lafayette would have been the victor. Follow the three questions, which furnish an interesting angle to the argument on professionalism:

* * *

Who won the game—the coach W. & J?

* * *

Was the game strictly intercollegiate, or was it really coach-intercollegiate?

break it in other ways. If his team would get him a commanding lead instead of going into the evening in the lead, Sothoron would start to experiment. He would bring into play in a championship game some sort of the new-fangled ideas he had been working on while warming up.

FILM STARS, OFTEN AS NOT, ABLE FINANCIERS

(By ESTHER WAGNER)
THE impression that all movie actors are profligate generalists. The public believe that with most of the studio folk it is "easy come, easy go."
Any number of instances might be given to upset this belief. Perhaps Ruth Roland furnishes the best instance of business sagacity among the women of the screen.
Ruth Roland owns one of the highest-priced business corners in Los Angeles. She builds bungalow courts, apartment houses and knows quite a lot about negotiable securities. Any bank on the Pacific Coast would extend credit to her. Her rating in Dun and Bradstreet is the very highest.
When Ruth started with the Kalem company, more than 10 years ago, she received $25 a week, but she put part of that away each week. Each week since she has invested part of her salary, which is now many times $25.

"I saved for many weeks to buy a diamond ring," Ruth says. "I finally bought one weighing one-half carat. It looked like a headlight to me, but nobody paid any attention to it. Then I saved for bigger things. When I had $500 I bought a lot for $750—$10 down and $10 a month. When I had paid a good many ten-dollars I learned I still had $750 to pay. I didn't know much about interest.
"I still own that lot and it has increased considerably in value. Since then I have bought and sold many lots. After I had accumulated a little capital I began making automobile loans.
"There are many clever business men and women in pictures who would have made big successes in business had they preferred such a career. We're not all spendthrift, profligate emphyseas."

Advance Notices on Thursday Bill at Faurot

UNLESS advance data on the week-end Keith to appear here this Thursday is all awry. Vaudeville-goers will be treated to a strong program of entertainment.
One of the features will be "The Girl in the Moon," a dainty miss who soars over the audience on a golden crescent, the while singing new and original song numbers.
Mr. Al. Tucker, comedy-violinist, will regale his audiences with a wealth of new ideas in laugh-getting material.
Keen satire and travesty are utilized by Bill Bachelor and Hazel Vert in their dining car scene entitled "Let's Go" which has an important position on the coming bill.

Songs, dances and talk are combined to make the offering a fast-moving, amusing little sketch.
Hickman Brothers, a comedy blackface duo, offer the latest quips in this style of comedy. Their merry melange is new and different and as a whole the act sounds quite enticing.
"Smiles," one of the big time acts of the year, is the surprise novelty of the entire bill. It is wonderfully staged and dressed and an offering to look forward to with interest. Its value would be lessened by description, hence we will let you wait.
The above program, together with a fresh Sunshine comedy, opens at the Faurot theatre on Thursday, matinee.

Quilna to Present "When Knighthood Was In Flower"

WHAT is termed as the most stupendous and remarkable cinema feature of the year has been booked for a week's showing at the Quilna theatre, beginning next Sunday.
This is the Cosmopolitan production, "When Knighthood Was In Flower," starring Miss Marion Davies, and presenting a host of other prominent screen players in supporting roles.
"When Knighthood Was In Flower" represents an expenditure of over one million dollars. The story is laid during the period of Henry VIII, with costumes and sets adhering strictly to the fashion in that portion of history. The piece has been constructed on a scale of lavishness never before attempted in screen history, according to metropolitan critics, and Miss Davies, in the role of Mary Tudor, is said to achieve her greatest triumph.
Lyn Harding plays Henry VIII, a part he has played over two hundred times. In fact, every member of the cast is qualified for his or her respective part. Lionel Finch, one of the most capable actresses who ever graced the screen, has a small, but effective bit.
Lima cinema fans are urged to avail themselves of the limited engagement here of "When Knighthood Was In Flower," and to arrange to see the picture which has taken New York, Boston and Chicago by storm. It is more than a well-dressed, expensive display of beauty. It is a perfect combination of talent, story and direction.

Fulton's first steamboat, has been built for "Little Old New York."
Orlando Cortez has been signed to a five-year contract with the Paramount stock company. Jesse Laszly "discovered" him when Cortez won a dancing contest.
Lois Wilson will have the only feminine role in "Belle Donna" other than Pola Negri.
TAKES NEW POSITION
Frank B. Cook, formerly associated with the E. G. Siggers company, Washington, D. C., and who visited here during the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Cook, W. Market-st., has gone to Savannah, Georgia, where he becomes advertising manager for the Savannah store of the American Home Furnishers Corporation of Norfolk, Virginia.

INDUSTRY GROWS 50 PER CENT

Figures On Past Year's Business Given By Forbes.

INCREASE LED BY STEEL

Boost In Bank Clearings of $35,000,000 Shown.

(BY R. C. FORBES)

NEW YORK.—(Special).—The New Year opens very cheerfully businesswise.

How it may end will be discussed next Monday.

The progress made during 1922 has been very impressive. Indeed, the extent of the recovery has been more marked than generally realized, as the improvement in most directions has been gradual.

The department of commerce figures that industrial activity has increased about 50 per cent over 1921. Steel has done about 60 per cent better, building 50 per cent, the automobile industry 50 per cent, sugar 50 per cent, non-ferrous metals from 50 to almost 100 per cent, textiles 20 per cent.

Warmer crops last year reached $7,772,850,000 in value, compared with $5,723,912,000 the previous year, a gain of 17 per cent.

Bank clearings increased $35,000,000.

Bond sales on the New York stock exchange reached $4,155,000,000 against $3,520,000,000 in 1921, the 1922 figures constituting a new high record. Stock transactions increased still more, from 173,000,000 shares to 263,000,000 shares.

Commercial failures were more numerous than in any previous year, but the liabilities, $615,000,000 were slightly below the amount involved in the previous year.

Railway gross earnings have been running slightly below those of 1921 notwithstanding that the volume of traffic carried during recent months has been breaking all records.

Cotton consumption has been substantially heavier than in 1921 and quotations are almost forty per cent above those ruling a year ago.

The general wholesale price level has risen at least 10 per cent during the twelve months.

Security quotations start the new year on a distinctly higher level than ruled at the opening of 1922. The betterment in bonds has embraced all varieties, with public utilities in the lead and industrial stocks generally better than railroad. Among stocks, the oil group did best, with railway equipments, motors, tobacco and sugar groups doing better than railway issues. Rubber stocks were an exception to the rule. The average rise has been almost 20 points.

The year brought a veritable transformation in the demand for labor. Unemployment was estimated at several millions in 1921, whereas the complaint during the latter months of 1922 was that unskilled and even certain varieties of skilled labor was in short supply. The wage trend, consequently, has been upwards, particularly since steel wages were advanced 20 per cent when settlement of the coal strike drew many workers from iron and steel companies.

Merchants have had a tolerably good year, on the whole, and the holiday trade exceeded expectations in nearly every line. Sales of the leading five-and-ten-cent chain of stores broke all records one day just before Christmas, and the largest mail order house records very pronounced expansion in sales during the recent months. Record-breaking postal receipts also reflect brisk retail trade.

All this business expansion has not reduced bank reserves below the ratio carried a year ago. The federal reserve banks closed the year with 72 per cent reserve, this, too, despite the very free pumping out of gold holdings by the banks, in the form of gold certificates. The amount of gold in the United States has increased at the rate of fully a million dollars for every day of last year, but the total supply of currency has been slightly reduced. Money rates are slightly lower than a year ago.

Broadly speaking, 1923 opens more favorably than 1922 opened for practically all classes and all sections of the country—the cotton growing South, the Far West, the mining states, the agricultural and industrial Middle West, the financial and industrial East, and labor as well as the agricultural community and those engaged in business.

Were the rest of the world half-way as well off as the United States, this country would be enjoying a greater degree of prosperity, if such an Irishman may be permitted. What happens abroad will have no slight influence upon what happens here during 1923.

But there are other factors which must be taken into the reckoning in trying to diagnose what is likely to happen to business in this country during the coming twelve months. Things could be queried by domestic action as well as foreign events.

This will form the theme of next Monday's column.

The high-priced oil shares showed advances at the opening of today's trading while industrial shares exhibited signs of weakness. Railroad shares showed strength while U. S. Steel advanced fractionally over last night's quotations. North America was up 2 1/4 of a point. Kelly Springfield Tire and Studebaker were off 3-8 each. Pan-American Petroleum sold 1 1/2 points off from last night's quotations in the first half hour while Baldwin Locomotive was off 1-4. Studebaker 1-2 and Brooklyn Rapid Transit 2 and Republic Iron and Steel 1. Substantial gains of 1 to 2 1/4 points were made by Sloss-Sheffield Steel, American Radiator, Atlas Tack, Public Service of New Jersey and U. S. Realty Improvement. Foreign exchanges opened irregular with sterling alone showing strength while continental rates were lower. France's rejection of the British reparations plan was used by professional investors as an excuse for a bear attack on the market which had become weakened by the rapidity of recent advances. Speculative shares were in free supply, the reaction being aided by extensive profit-taking and the bulls inability to attract an outside following. Market heaviness was noted in the oils, independent steels, equipments, tobacco and merchandise groups, which yielded one to two points. Union Pacific and Southern Pacific were the heaviest hit in the rail group. Good buying or development later in American Can, Coca Cola and the motor, rubber and tire shares, which brought about slight rallies in other parts of the list. Nash Motors added 16 3/4 points to its 10 point gain of yesterday. Call money opened at 5 per cent and then dropped to 4 1/2.

A broad upward swing in prices took place in today's stock market after an early period of heaviness resulting from the French opposition to the British reparations plan. A sharp decline in call money rate combined with aggressive pool operations in industrial shares, eventually halted the reaction and turned the course of prices upward. Sales approximated 1,000,000 shares. The closing was strong.

HOUSE RANSACKED; OVERCOAT STOLEN

An overcoat was stolen from the home of Leo Davis, 305 Garfield-st, Tuesday night, according to report received by police Wednesday. Investigation by detectives disclosed that an entrance was effected thru a rear window and that the entire house was ransacked, but that nothing except the overcoat was taken.

JUDGE BECKER AFFIRMS LIQUOR FINE OF $1,000

George Garret, found guilty and fined $1,000 on a liquor charge by Judge E. J. Jackson in April 1921, lost an appeal on error in common pleas court Wednesday.

Judge Fred C. Becker affirmed the decision of the lower court and remanded the case back for sentence. If the fine is not paid, Garret, may be forced to serve it out in jail.

WHEAT ADVANCES TWO CENTS

Market Is Influenced By Strength At Liverpool

CHICAGO—Stoppage of urgent selling brought about an upturn in wheat prices today during the early dealings. The fact that Liverpool quotations failed to reflect fully yesterday's sharp break in values here had much to do with the halt on the part of sellers. Besides renewal of unfavorable advices about the condition of the domestic winter crop were given some attention. The opening, which varied from unchanged figures to 1-1-4 higher with May $1.18 3-8 to 1.19 and July $1.10 3-8 to 1.10 1-2 was followed by material gains all around.

Corn and oats ascended with wheat. After opening 1-8 to 1-4 up, May 60 3-4 to 70 1-8, the corn market scored a moderate general advance.

Oats started unchanged to 1-8 higher, May 43 1-8. Later all deliveries showed a rise.

Provisions were easy owing to declines in the value of hogs. The wheat close was 1-1-4 to 2c net higher with May $1.20 3-8 to 1.20 1-2 and July $1.11 1-8 to 1.12. The corn close was firm, 1-3-8 to 1-5-8 net higher, May 71 1-4 and 71 3-8 to 71 3-8.
